

Rev. Julie A Pratt

Julie Pratt is the Assemblies of God Children's Ministries Director of Discipleship and has a long history of involvement in kids and family ministry including the local church, Christian Higher education, and as a ministry consultant. She has authored articles, been a featured speaker at seminars and training events, church events, and is a kids camp and retreat speaker.

Julie is passionate about child discipleship, and the role of the church and the family in helping lead children to become lifelong followers of Jesus. She is gifted at training church leaders and parents in developing strategies to disciple today's kids so they can stand firm against the weight of culture and become leader of tomorrow's church. She is an inspiring communicator with both children and adult audiences, and is available for speaking engagements in your district, church, or camp.
